Saints Football Game Notes

ST. LAWRENCE at UTICA

The Series: Saturday afternoon's game marks the fourth all-time meeting between the St. Lawrence Saints and Utica College Pioneers on the gridiron. SLU enters the game having won each of the prior three meetings by the scores of 33-0 ('01), 15-12 ('03) and 35-10 ('04).

Rewind: In the 2004 meeting between the Saints and Pioneers at Charles A. Gaetano Stadium, the Saints used a 28-point run to seize control of the game, 14-3, at halftime. After Utica took a 3-0 lead in the opening frame, Tom Anderson connected with Mike O'Donnell for a 26-yard score only 1:02 into the second quarter. Brett Hughes then added a 5-yard TD run to give the Saints a 14-3 cushion before intermission. Anderson (6-yd) and Hughes (2-yd) put the game away in the second half with TD runs at 10:08 of the third and 00:45 of the fourth quarters, respectively. Anwar Muhammed scored on a 71-yard TD reception for Utica, but was answered by a 6-yard TD catch by Gary Gaines that capped the scoring in a 35-10 St. Lawrence victory.

Fast Forward: Utica College has built a strong program since its founding in 2001, and now boast one of the premier teams in the Empire 8. The Pioneers, 4-1 overall on the season, shocked Division III football with a 42-21 win against RPI earlier this season. They've outscored their opponents 227-107 this season thanks to the running of Jake Scott (440 yards, 9 TD) and the passing of Andrew Benkwitt (106-of-158, 1464 yds, 13 TD, 5 INT). However, St. Lawrence had arguably its best win in over a decade last season, when the Saints knocked off Hobart for the first time since 1991.

Feature Match-Up: Saints Secondary vs. Pioneer Receivers

The St. Lawrence pass defense was excellent last weekend against Hobart, as the secondary worked in coverage alongside the linebackers to cause four turnovers. However, Utica boasts potentially the best corps of wide outs the Saints will see all season, as four players have already caught 20+ passes and combined for 13 TD's. With the likes of Anthony Acevedo (112 yds/g), Josh Mason (67.4 yds/g), Jeremy Meier (58.4 yds/g) and Matt Dunn (49.8 yds/g), the Pioneers and Andrew Benkwitt can attack through the air in many different directions.

Head Coach Mark Raymond:

The 2010 season is the first at the helm for Mark Raymond, who became the Saints head coach in the spring of this year. Raymond, who received his Master's Degree from SLU in 1995, picked up his first career win against Merchant Marine in the annual Hoffman Cup game. He then coached the Saints to a 24-21 win over Hobart, the first victory over the Statesmen since 1991.

Coach Raymond, the 22nd head coach in the program's history, was the defensive coordinator at Ithaca for seven seasons. During his tenure, the Bombers posted a record of 59-19 (.756) and advanced to three NCAA Tournaments.

Raymond earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Buffalo in 1993 and was a three-year letterman for the varsity football squad. He worked for three seasons as a graduate assistant at St. Lawrence, where he coached linebackers, defensive ends and wide receivers. He also build a solid recruiting foundation throughout the northeast.

Coach Raymond returned to SLU after working with the U.S. Government since May of 2007. He also has coaching roots at Syracuse University, where he served as a graduate assistant for two seasons.

Have you BEN watching?:

St. Lawrence University senior captain Ben Cryts burst on to the scene last weekend against Hobart with a monster game.

The Derry, NH native accounted for four turnovers for SLU, including three interceptions and a forced fumble that he recovered. Cryts, who is tied atop the league standings in INT's and is t-6th in sacks, also made 10 tackles against Hobart.

For his efforts against the Statesmen, Cryts was the ECAC's Division III North Defensive Player of the Week and the Liberty League's Co-Defensive Player of the Week.

"Feeding on Fedo":

The St. Lawrence defense has helped keep the Saints in all five games this season, and part of their success comes with the emergence of senior linebacker Ryan Fedo.

Fedo, who became a starter late in the 2009 season, has established himself as formidable collegiate defender. In five games this season, he leads St. Lawrence with 47 total tackles.

Fedo was named the Liberty League's Co-Defensive Player of the Week following the win at USMMA.

Kearney the Key?:

Though Andy Spadoni won the starting QB job in training camp this season, the reins were turned over to senior JP Kearney in the second quarter against Alfred.

After entering the game, Kearney immediately led the Saints on a 7-play, 60-yard touchdown drive. With the Laflin, PA native under center, the Scarlet and Brown outscored Alfred 16-3 and moved the ball effectively.

Kearney made his first start of the 2010 season against Merchant Marine and was 8-of-16 passing for 100 yards, one TD and an interception. He then passed for 171 yards and 3 TD's in the victory over Hobart.

Saturday's game will be Kearney's first start against Utica College.

Saintly Standings:

The St. Lawrence University football team owns a share of first place in the Liberty League standings behind a perfect 2-0 mark.

Though it's early in the conference season, next weekend's showdown against Union College in Schenectady, NY looms large. Entering the weekend, Union was the only other team in the conference at 2-0.

The Dutchmen face Hobart today at noon in a pivotal game for both teams. SLU will square off with Union next Saturday at 1:00pm.

"Turnover" a New Leaf:

One of the crucial areas that Coach Raymond's needed to improve upon in 2010 was turnovers.

St. Lawrence led the Liberty League each of the past two seasons in turnovers, committing 34 each year.

Through five games, the Saints have become one of the better teams in the league in turnover margin. Thanks to 12 takeaways by the defense (6 INT, 6 fumbles), SLU is currently 2nd in the league with a +2 margin.

Red HOT Zone:

The Saints are currently near the top of Liberty League standings in both red zone offense and defense.

SLU is third in red zone offense, having scored 5-of-7 times including 3 TD's. Defensively, the team is second in the red zone, allowing teams to score only 53% of the time. The Saints have forced a league-best 5 turnovers in the red zone.

He's "Sutton" Special:

St. Lawrence University junior Ethan Sutton has burst on to the scene as one of the most dynamic playmakers in the conference.

Sutton was named the Hoffman Cup game's MVP after turning in a pair of touchdowns, including an 80-yard fake punt for a score and a game-winning 75-yard TD reception. He then caught the game-winning TD against Hobart last weekend.

For his efforts against Kings Point, Sutton was named the League's Co-Offensive Player of the Week.

Make it Rain, Oraene:

The SLU defense has had to work to replace All-America Gerard Bryant in the trenches. Thus far, #58 has looked like his predecessor, #51.

Sophomore Oraene Morgan has looked sharp through five games. Against Norwich, Morgan had a game-high 12 tackles including 0.5 for a loss. In five games, Morgan has 26 tackles, fourth on the roster.

Caution -- Flying Flags:

St. Lawrence closed the 2009 campaign as the most penalized team in the conference.

The Saints averaged 57.5 yards per game last season in penalties with a total of 575 yards lost.

St. Lawrence is once again amongst the league leaders in penalties, as it enters the Utica game ranked third in the conference. The bright spot? Only 37.4 yards per game.

The WildSaint?:

Offensive coordinator Scott Brisson has worked with his unit to implement the "Wildcat" offense, dubbed that thanks to Kansas State's offense under Michael Bishop.

The Saints have opted to implement the wildcat offense for several reasons: to keep the defense guessing, better blocking and to get the ball in the hands of Ethan Sutton.

Next on the Docket:

After St. Lawrence takes on Utica in Central New York, the Scarlet and Brown will visit Union College in arguably the biggest SLU football game in over a decade. Kick-off is slated for 1:00pm next Saturday, October 16th.
